Prof. Kameri Mbote, Dean School of Law is currently attending an international conference organized by the International Development Law Organization (IDLO) in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania.

The theme of the two day event also supported by the government of Tanzania is "Achieving the 2030 agenda and agenda 2063: the rule of law as driver of Africa's sustainable development."

The Conference, as part of IDLO's larger Africa Initiative, is intended to provide a platform for African leaders, policymakers and experts to engage in strategy and policy discussions, exchange knowledge and experience, and strengthen partnerships within Africa and with the international community to further advance the rule of law in Africa as an integral element in the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the African Union's Agenda 2063.

While in Dar es Salaam, the dean was able to meet and chat with former Tanzania President Jakaya Kikwete. For more information about the event, click here. [9]
